The 104th Season of Rutgers Football

Rutgers University

The State University of New Jersey

Rutgers, The State University, which began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution, celebrated its Bicentennial Anniversary in 1966. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers originally was called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

New Jersey College for Women (renamed Douglass in 1955) was founded in 1918 and in 1945, all divisions of Rutgers were brought within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. The College of South Jersey, now known as Camden-Rutgers, joined the family in 1950 and Rutgers came under management of an 11-man Board of Governors as Rutgers, The State University, in 1955.

Under Dr. Mason W. Gross, Rutgers grew from approximately 3,500 students to 9,000 full-time undergraduates, including those at the newest branch, Livingston College. Dr. Gross was succeeded on Sept. 1, 1971 by Dr. Edward J. Bloustein, who has set his sights on Rutgers assuming a position of national leadership among urban universities. Effective September, 1972, Rutgers became co-educational.

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John F. Bateman, Head Coach

AN OVERALL mark of 66-47 and four outstanding teams—9-0 in 1961, 8-1 in 1960, 8-2 in 1968 and 6-3 in 1969 are among the highlights of the 12 years John Bateman has spent as head coach of Rutgers football.

Bateman brought instant success here from three years as an assistant at Penn and 11 years as an aide to Lou Little at Columbia. His first two teams won 17 of 18 games.

The Scarlet then ran into some lean years, just about breaking even. In 1968 things began clicking again and Rutgers earned fifth place in the East with its 8-2 record and won its last five games. "That was my most satisfying season as a coach," Bateman said.

A native New Jersey, Bateman attended Central High and St. Benedict's Prep in Newark before entering Columbia in 1934. He played guard under Little at Morningside Heights, captaining the 1937 Lion eleven. After three years in the Navy and three years of coaching at Middletown, N. Y., High School, he joined Little's staff at his alma mater in 1940.

Bateman's offensive formations at Rutgers have changed with the times. From the double wing T, he shifted to the balanced line T, later came up with the "T" and then twin running backs. The current Rutgers attack includes a smattering of the triple option. "You can't stand pat — you've got to find new ways to beat the defense," Bateman says.

Named in 1961 as "Coach of the Year" by the Washington, D. C., Touchdown Club, Bateman holds a master's degree in political science and a doctorate in education from Columbia. To many, he is known as "Doctor John."

Bateman and his wife, Anita, have three sons and are grandparents.

Frank Burns, Associate Head Coach

As associate head coach, a position he assumed in 1968, Frank Burns is John Bateman's right arm. He is charged with coordination of the offense and serves generally as executive officer of the coaching staff. Burns has been at Rutgers since 1949 with the exception of six years. He was head coach at Johns Hopkins (1954-55) and coached Chatham High School four years (1957-60). He has been with Bateman continuously since 1961. He is a native of Roselle Park and played four varsity years for Rutgers, earning all-east quarterback honors. He still holds a number of Rutgers records. He played in the East-West game and was most valuable player in the Herald Tribune Shrine game.

Robert Naso, Defensive Coach

Bob Naso became defensive coordinator in 1968, his third step up on John Bateman's staff. Originally the freshman coach for three years, Naso became defensive line coach in 1964. Naso also serves as the head lacrosse coach and has compiled an 11-year mark of 78-51-1. His 1972 team made the NCAA playoffs. He excelled in football and lacrosse as an undergraduate at Rutgers, garnering All-America honors in the latter sport. Summertime he directs a co-ed sports camp, Golden Valley.

Speranza

William J. Speranza,
Defensive Backs

Success has followed Bill Speranza's football career. As a senior quarterback, he helped guide Rutgers to an undefeated record (9-0 in 1961). His last of four seasons as Rutgers freshman coach (1967) the record was 5-0. And in 1968, when he took charge of the defensive backs, Rutgers went 8-2 and his pass defenders held the opposition to only five touchdowns via the air—three in the last game. Speranza, who coached for two years in his native Bethlehem, Pa., was an outstanding baseball catcher for Rutgers in addition to playing football.

James Taigia, Offensive Line

Jim Taigia joined the Rutgers staff in 1968 and took charge of the offensive line. A teammate of Frank Burns during their Rutgers playing days, Taigia coached at Piscataway, Hillside and Rahway High Schools before returning to his alma mater. He was a guard as a college player. While a high school coach, he was an active basketball official.

Sampson Brown, Defensive Line

Sam Brown became defensive line coach at the start of the 1970 season, following three years of coaching the freshmen. In 1967-68 he was assistant freshman coach before moving up to chief freshman mentor. A Rahway native and Plainfield resident, Sam came to Rutgers in 1964 as a 24-year-old sophomore and after seven years away from competition, made the varsity as a defensive lineman. Sam has been active in community work and in 1968 served as director of the NCAA-sponsored Rutgers Summer Youth Program.

Brown

Taigia

Jack Hohnstine
Assistant Coach

A 1966 Rutgers graduate, Jack Hohnstine has been assisting with the varsity since 1969, working with the flankers and jayvees.

Lee Schneider,
Assistant Coach

Co-captain of the 1969 Rutgers football team, Lee was an outstanding linebacker and is now an Economics instructor in the College of Agriculture.

Savino

Peter Savino,
Freshman Coach

After two years as an assistant, Pete Savino took over as freshman coach last fall. A one-time standout athlete at Perth Amboy High, he was a versatile football player for the Scarlet, playing quarterback, flanker and finally defensive halfback. An assistant coach in lacrosse, he is a 1969 graduate.

Pat Dolan,
Assistant Freshman Coach

Head football coach at Franklin Township High School for 11 years, Pat Dolan played at Notre Dame and will coach the freshman line. He is the only Scarlet assistant not a Rutgers graduate.

HOLY CROSS PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 28
Lettermen Lost: 15

Depth will once again be Coach Doherty's major problem, but if the Crusaders can avoid injuries, they could have a successful season. The key could be all-East fullback Joe Wilson, called the best runner they faced by several Rutgers' defenders last season.

Holy Cross suffered at the quarterback slot last year, trying no less than five men at the position. Once again the Crusaders lack a regular and Doherty will try juniors Pete Vass and Bob Orth and senior Colin Clapton. Defensively Holy Cross will be led by its tackles Jim Griffin and George Olson.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Rutgers 14, Holy Cross 13

Linebacker Gary Martin knocked down a Holy Cross two-point conversion pass in the fourth quarter to preserve a Rutgers win, as the Scarlet broke a six-game losing streak.

The Crusaders took an early lead on a Pete Vass-Jack Von Ohlen touchdown, but Rutgers quarterback Leo Gasienica countered with the first of two scoring passes to Larry Robertson, a 39 yarder. Robertson also caught a three yard toss to put Rutgers ahead before tailback Eddie Jenkins scored for Holy Cross, setting up Martin's game winning play.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 28;
Lettermen Lost: 11

Lehigh could duplicate last year's 8-3 record, according to head coach Fred Dunlap. The major obstacles to be overcome are replacing the Engineer's All-America Center John Hill and running backs Jack Rizzo and Dan Diorio. Handling the attack will be junior Kim McQuilken, a highly touted quarterback. If two good rushers are found, the Lehigh offense may equal last years 362 points.

The defensive unit figures to improve because the sophomores of last year are now experienced. The Engineers lose only two of last year's defensive starters.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Lehigh 35, Rutgers 14

Lehigh fullback Jack Rizzo scored three touchdowns while gaining 131 yards to lead the Engineers to a convincing victory.

Rizzo's performance was complemented by backfield mates Dan Diorio, who scored two touchdowns, and Kim McQuilken, who completed 14 of 21 passes as Lehigh downed the Scarlet for the third straight time.

Tailback Larry Robertson scored both Rutgers' touchdowns while surpassing the 1,000-yard mark for his career. It was 14-14 at the half, but the last two quarters were all Lehigh.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 21
Lettermen Lost: 23

Coach Jake McCandless' Tigers face a rebuilding task for the 1972 football season as only eight of 22 starters return, two on defense. Princeton will have to replace its entire linebacking corps, three of four defensive backs, both defensive tackles and an end. Captain Mike Kincaid and cornerback Barry Richardson are the only defensive holdovers.

The bright spots in the Princeton picture center around the offensive line and receiving corps. Returning are tackle Bill Brown and All-Ivy guard Steve Curtis. Wide receiver Bill Skinner is also back. At quarterback the Tigers will use Jim Flynn, who started six games last fall.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Rutgers 33, Princeton 18

Rutgers exploded for three first quarter scores and made three late goal line stands to rout Princeton. Rutgers scored on a 15 yard reverse by Ron Shycko, quarterback Leo Gasienica's one-yard sneak and his 15-yard toss to Larry Robertson before Princeton got on the scoreboard.

Other Scarlet scores came on a Gasienica - Bob Carney pass and a 14 yard run by Bruce Miller. Rod Plummer had a hand in all three Princeton touchdowns as he ran for one and threw to Bill Skinner for two others. The Tigers got inside the Rutgers 5 three times in the second half but were stopped each time.

CORNELL PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 30

Lettermen Lost: 14

Cornell will have a veteran defensive unit and some key returnees on offense, but THE offense of the last three years, Ed Marinaro, is gone, as are four of the linemen who paved the way for his record-setting runs. Jack Musick isn't crying the blues, what with 30 lettermen and some outstanding prospects available to fill in the holes.

There is size, quality and experience in the defensive platoon and quarterback Mark Allen, an excellent runner, returns at quarterback. Marinaro's heirs are Rich Russo and Mark Piscitelli and the Big Red is hoping it can be a factor in the Ivy League again. Last year's mark was its best in 22 years.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Cornell 31, Rutgers 17

Rutgers and Cornell played fairly evenly for a half, but Cornell controlled the ball for three time-eating marches on its first three second half possessions and it was all over. Ed Marinaro was a one-man gang, gaining 246 yards and scoring four touchdowns after Cornell took the lead on a John Killian field goal.

An interception by Don Jean of Cornell was crucial, stopping a long Rutgers drive early in the final period with Cornell ahead, 23-10. The Scarlet's touchdowns came on a run by Bruce Miller and a pass from Gary Smolyn to Larry Christoff. John Pesce booted a field goal.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 19

Lettermen Lost: 17

Depth is the question mark on this year's Leopard team, and Lafayette's success will be inversely proportional to the number of injuries. Tom Grip returns at quarterback and Coach Neil Putnam's top two rushers, Doug Elgin and Tony Giglio, also return, but behind them there are no experienced players. The offensive line has four starters returning.

Lafayette will be looking for help in the secondary with the entire backfield gone, while the linebacking corps is good but thin. The line, with three veterans, must steady the defense if Lafayette is to have a successful season.

LAFAYETTE'S 1972 SCHEDULE

Nov. 18—Lehigh

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Lafayette 13, Rutgers 7

Lafayette scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and made them stand up to snap a five-game consecutive losing streak to Rutgers. Doug Elgin scored both TDs for the Leopards as they successfully inaugurated Neil Putnam's coaching career at Lafayette.

The Scarlet scored in the second quarter on a 16-yard Gary Smolyn to Bruce Miller pass. Rutgers threatened several times late in the game, but the Leopard defense would not surrender.

LAFAYETTE'S 1971 RECORD (5-5)

Lafayette 13, Rutgers 7
Lafayette 3, Columbia 0
Drexel 21, Lafayette 13

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Of the 67 games played since 1882, Rutgers has won 37, lost 29, and tied one. (Lafayette's records count a Rutgers default in 1893.) Scores of the last 10 games:

ARMY PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 27
Lettermen Lost: 12

Coach Tom Cahill can count heavily on the experience factor as 14 of last season's starters return. But a general lack of depth and team speed may hurt the Cadets against another tough schedule.

All-America candidate Steve Bogosian returns at defensive end, while four veterans will vie for the tackle slots. The linebacking corps is solid and the secondary returns all four starters.

Kingsley Fink should step into the starting quarterback post full-time while Bob Hines and Bruce Simpson will handle the ball-carrying. The offensive line will start mostly lettermen.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Army 30, Rutgers 17

Army broke open a close football game midway through the third quarter to defeat the Scarlet Knights for the tenth consecutive time.

Leading 16-10 following Rutgers' Bill Donaldson's scoring plunge, the Cadets tallied on a run by Bruce Simpson and Mike Gaines' 42-yard punt return to put the game out of reach.

The other Army scores came on a Jim Barclay field goal and an eight yard touchdown pass from Kingsley Fink to John Simar. Rutgers scored on a field goal by John Pesce and a Leo Gasienica to Ron Shycko pass.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 23

Lettermen Lost: 10

Coach Frank Navarro feels his Lions have a good shot at the Ivy League championship this season with many top players returning from last year's squad, his best in four seasons at Columbia. Returning are standout linebacker Paul Kaliades and one of the East's best passing duos in Don Jackson and Jesse Parks. Jackson will have a full supporting cast in the backfield as Navarro will choose among five veterans for the two running back slots.

Defensively, the Lions are particularly strong at linebacker and end, but will be thin in the secondary where four lettermen graduated. Kaliades, All-Ivy last fall, calls the signals and anchors the defense.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Columbia 17, Rutgers 16

A blocked extra point proved the difference as Columbia defeated the upset-minded Scarlet. The Lions had opened a 17-10 lead but a comeback sparked by quarterback Leo Gasienica, who completed 7 of 16 passes, fell just short.

Rutgers opened the scoring on Gary Smolyn's touchdown pass to Bob Carney. Columbia knotted the count with a toss from Don Jackson to Jesse Parks, then scored on a 27-yard pass play from Jackson to Mike Jones, and Paul Kaliades' 33-yard field goal. The other Rutgers scores were a field goal by John Pesce, and a run by Larry Robertson, but Max McKenzie blocked Pesce's extra point try to preserve the Columbia victory.

CONNECTICUT PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 27
Lettermen Lost: 17

Based on the excellent finish of the 1971 season, Coach Bob Casciola has an encouraging outlook for this year. This optimism, however, is tempered by the fact that the Huskies lost key defensive personnel and face their most difficult schedule in many years.

Connecticut's ground attack should be strong with the outside and inside running threats of tailback Lou Allen and fullback Don Zweig. Defensively, six returning lettermen will vie for the linebacking spots but a search is on to find depth in the secondary.

Vin Clements rushed for two touchdowns and Rick Robustelli and John Crisp teamed up on two scoring passes to lead the Huskies past Rutgers. Robustelli completed 26 of 45 passes for 283 yards, all UConn records, while Clements gained 146 yards in 31 carries.

Rutgers scored on two touchdowns by Bruce Van Ness, a Rich Policastro to Larry Robertson pass and a safety. Split end Jim Benedict caught six of Policastro's passes to bring his season total to 45, a Rutgers record.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 31
Lettermen Lost: 18

Despite the return of 31 lettermen, Boston U. may field its youngest and least experienced team in recent history. Of last year's starters, 14 have graduated and many of the lettermen were reserves.

The Terriers offensive backfield was stripped bare and Coach Larry Naviaux intends to use the Wishbone T to generate punch with newcomers. The offensive line has three holdovers.

Bill Pukalo, an end, heads what should be a strong defensive line, but B.U. will have to replace its entire secondary and needs two linebackers.

LAST GAME, 1970

Rutgers converted a recovered fumble into a 48-yard touchdown drive that shocked the favored Terriers, 6-3. Tailback Larry Robertson scored the winner midway through the final quarter as it took the Scarlet 12 plays to march the 48 yards.

B.U., which outgained Rutgers 301 to 134, could manage only a 39-yard field goal by Fred Rappaport as Rutgers won its second consecutive game on its successful drive to reach the .500 level.

MORGAN STATE

PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 33
Lettermen Lost: 7

Earl Banks' chief goal for 1972 is to find a quarterback to run his offense. During the spring, it appeared that a sophomore, Ed Burt, would be the man, but Banks was talking hopefully about two freshman recruits who, by the time the Bears meet Rutgers, will be experienced hands.

Certainly, there's no lack of size on this Morgan State team which expects to benefit from last year's siege of injuries. All-America prospect Ron Mayo is a 6-3, 220-pound flanker, and defensive tackle will be handled, for example, by 6-5, 270-pound Tiny Andrews and 6-3, 275-pound Mike Morgan.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Rutgers 27, Morgan State 8

Leo Gasienica staged one of his finest performances against Morgan. The Rutgers quarterback, previously unknown as a runner, netted 31 yards on the ground, scoring a touchdown, and hit 9 of 11 passes for 85 yards and two touchdowns, while Jim "JJ" Jennings churned for 171 yards rushing.

Rutgers took a 14-0 first quarter lead as Gasienica twice passed to Larry Christoff for TDs; then after Morgan's Les Brooks scored from the 9, Gasienica conducted an 83-yard march and scored from the one for a 20-6 lead at half. The Scarlet made two fine goal line stands, although giving up a safety, in the third quarter before Jennings' 47-yard run put the game away.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 32

Lettermen Lost: 13

If gaps in the defensive line and linebacking corps can be filled, coach Neil Wheelwright believes that his team can improve on last season's record. Co-captain Dave Palmer and Ray Heibling will anchor the defensive wall, but the other starting berths are open. Ray Haffey is the only returning starter among the linebackers.

Offensively, Colgate should continue to roll up yardage with its Wishbone-T offense, led by ECAC Sophomore of the Year quarterback Tom Paar. Mark Van Eeghen and Ralph Folkes will do the bulk of the rushing, and the pass receivers are set. Six of Colgate's top seven scorers return.

LAST YEAR'S GAME

Rutgers 28, Colgate 16

In his first start, Jim Jennings scored three touchdowns and gained 108 yards in 21 carries to lead Rutgers. He scored on runs of 1 and 17 yards and caught a 5-yard scoring toss from Leo Gasienica. The other Scarlet touchdown came on Bruce Miller's 90 yard return of the second half kick-off.

Colgate scored on a first quarter field goal and on runs by Tom Parr and Russ Brown. The Red Raiders actually outgained Rutgers, 442 to 231, but fumbles proved to be disastrous. Colgate fumbled seven times, Rutgers recovering four times, each bobble halting a budding drive.

The Forecast

Rutgers should be considerably stronger this fall than it was in 1971. Tempering the optimism of Coach John Bateman, however, is a schedule featuring teams which for the most part also will be as good or better than last year.

Bateman will have more lettermen (26 to 13), better size, more depth and a respectable corps of sophomores with which to mold his 13th team at Rutgers. A number of key athletes have departed, but only four of them were starters in the Scarlet's final two games last fall.

With a basically young team (only 9 regulars were on hand), Rutgers had only one success in its first eight games last year, a win over Princeton, but won the final three games and will carry that winning streak into the opener against Holy Cross.

Quarterback Leo Gasienica, who emerged as number one after an extended battle with Gary Smolyn (now the safety) will direct an attack which could have: standout running from Ed Jones, who excelled at defensive halfback, and Jim "JJ" Jennings, who gained 279 yards in the final two games — his only starts; good receiving from Bob Carney and Bruce Miller; and effective blocking from a veteran line headed by tight end Larry Christoff and guard Dave Rinehimer.

Defensively, much will hinge on the rebuilding of the secondary, which at the end of spring practice had a green look. Although jobs still were undecided, three sophomores were running at least even for starting assignments. The veterans dominate up front, with tackle Steve Allen and linebacker Andy Malekoff the likely standouts.

Among the lettermen is John Pesce, who is hoping to achieve field goal kicking consistency this fall. He has good range and has been reliable on extra points.

It could be that the Scarlet will be better able to withstand injuries, with somewhat improved depth, but this is not true throughout the squad.

"I'm an eternal optimist, but I don't want to expect too much too soon," Bateman said. "Much will depend on attitude, which is so crucial to athletics today. Last year's group maintained an excellent spirit, even when things were going poorly. If we can duplicate that and get off on the right foot, this could become a fine team.

"But," Bateman continued, "there isn't a weak team on our schedule and we're going to need a complete effort for every victory we get."

It could come down to how much better football players today are the 15 to 20 sophomores who took their lumps a year ago.

The Leading Scarlet Knights

ENDS

LARRY CHRISTOFF, senior. A season-and-a-half at tight end has made Larry one of the best in the East. Started sophomore season at offensive guard, but closed the year spectacularly with three TD grabs against Holy Cross to tie single game record . . . Caught 25 passes for 246 yards last season and scored three times . . . Professionals watching him . . . Majors in Business Administration.

BOB DILLARD, junior. A quick defender, Bob hopes to weigh close to 200 pounds . . . Started all year as a sophomore, he is "still learning my position" . . . A former track star, his father and an uncle are veteran police officers and he would like to follow in their footsteps . . . A Livingston student and a Political Science major.

KEN HALL, junior. Made fine progress as reserve tight end . . . Has been leading receiver in two spring games. Will see lots of action behind Christoff and the spot should be his in a year . . . Good size and much-improved strength . . . A Business Administration student.

PAUL LEBEDZ, senior. A Physical Education major who has built himself up over 210. Paul has been a defensive reserve. Has performed well in spot assignments and staff is confident in him . . . A Physical Education student, he wants to teach and coach.

ROY MALINAK, senior. Roy began his Rutgers career as a tailback, became a linebacker briefly, was shifted to defensive end but played all last season in the Knight position, returning to end last spring . . . A lacrosse midfielder with the face-off job, Roy was instrumental in the seventh-place national ranking and N.C.A.A. playoff pick . . . Majors in Agricultural Business.

TACKLES

STEVE ALLEN, junior. Showed promise of stardom as a sophomore though he did not play freshman football . . . A fire plug type at 6-1, 220, Steve dreams of being a linebacker . . . Earned "Monster" awards in Lehigh and Columbia games . . . Quick, agile and determined, enjoys "out-thinking" his opponent . . . Majoring in Political Science, would like to help restructure the black community as a city planner.

MARTY BENANTE, junior. Marty gained valuable experience as a rotating interior defensive lineman and will share tackle again . . . Especially proud of the "stuff the passer" (STP) award in Columbia game . . . Now working hard on "finesse football" . . . Agricultural Business major.

DOUG DAVIS, junior. Doug, originally a guard, went to tackle early and played there all last season . . . He missed spring practice with an ankle injury, which also cancelled throwing shot put for him . . . Qualifies in strength and speed and makes the offensive line a full veteran unit . . . A Liberal Arts student.

JOHN KEOUGH, senior. Progress has been slow for John, but the former center developed last season to a point where he hopes that this is his year . . . Ankle injury last year cost him starting job. Inspired teammates with hair-shaving surprise for Princeton game . . . An Agricultural Business major with interests in house remodeling.

JACK SALEMI, junior. Bigger and stronger than he was as a part-time soph starter, Jack should be improved this year despite missing spring practice due to a shoulder operation . . . Played fullback as a freshman . . . Learned the trade well last year though hampered by the shoulder . . . Economics major.

SCOTT SPENCER, junior. One of the biggest men on the squad at 6-4, 240, Scott won the starting offensive tackle spot halfway through last season and was impressive the rest of the way . . . Uses size well and learned from veterans on either side of him . . . A thinking athlete much impressed with the Rutgers sports philosophy . . . A Landscape Architectural student.

SAM TURNER, junior. Sam overcame a number of sophomore difficulties last season and was impressive in the spring with a new drive to excell . . . Weightlifting advocate showed improved strength and speed . . . Plays the guitar and wants to teach English . . . Liberal Arts major.

GUARDS

DAVE RINEHIMER, senior. The most veteran of the Scarlet lineman, Dave is recognized as the offensive line leader . . . Considers each play a little game and strives for constant perfection . . . All-East weekly honorable mention for play against Colgate and almost weekly recipient of "best pass protector" award . . . Interested in a career as a food processing researcher . . . Plays Rugby . . . Majoring in Agricultural Business.

DALE SIPOS, sophomore. One of the most impressive of the new offensive linemen, Dale worked behind Rinehimer and Tighe during the spring . . . Slated for a reserve role there . . . Brother played for Princeton . . . Liberal Arts major

ANDY TIGHE, junior. Andy was an immediate starter as a sophomore and learned something new each game . . . Excellent development but still aware there's more to know . . . Credits Rinehimer with progress . . . Won "hard hit" awards twice . . . Wants to be on first winning team of his football career this season . . . Liberal Arts student.

CENTERS

VIC LAPKOWICZ, senior. Sturdy and consistent all season, the former tackle likes his old high school position . . . Worked hard on speed this spring and helps make the Scarlet line a proficient blocking unit . . . Strong at 220 . . . "Monster" honors against Bucknell . . . Enrolled as a Chemical Engineering student, wants to be a dentist.

BRUCE MONTIGNEY, sophomore. Entrusted with the back-up job at center during the spring, Bruce gives assurance that he wants the post for the duration of his college days . . . Was considered one of best blockers on freshman team . . . Still growing and could reach 220 . . . A Liberal Arts Major.

LINEBACKERS

FRED BILLOCK, junior. An emergency appendectomy and a broken arm have impeded Fred's career but he could be number one Knight . . . Missed '71 season because of broken arm sustained in opening game . . . Was running back and safety before becoming a linebacker . . . Electrical Engineering major.

ANDY MALEKOFF, senior. A two-year starter, Andy comes off fine season and is hungry for winning record . . . Selected to All-East team for performance against Army . . . Could be one of the East's best . . . Gave up lacrosse to prep for football by playing rugby in the spring . . . Was tackle on 5-2 freshman team, his only winning squad . . . An Economics major.

TOM MANNON, sophomore. Tom made the fastest progress among the younger linebackers during the spring . . . Considered one of the best tacklers on freshman squad . . . Was captain of high school team as linebacker and of defensive tackle . . . A Liberal Arts major.

JOHN WITKOWSKI, junior. John steps into middle linebacker position and has full confidence that he can fill it . . . Outstanding as a freshman linebacker, he developed quickly in a reserve role last season . . . Has grown bigger and has agility for pass defense duties . . . Majoring in Economics.

FRANK ZUKAS, senior. The first linebacking reserve last season, Frank was called upon to go full time in the Colgate and Army games and proved up to the task . . . Will be filling the spot left by Sam Picketts . . . Qualifies as a veteran . . . Especially adept at getting to ball . . . A Liberal Arts student.

KICKER

JOHN PESCE, senior. The leading Scarlet scorer as a sophomore, John finished in second-place last year. Converted 22 of 25 PAT's and added three field goals . . . Four field goals and 21 conversions in 1970 . . . Booted goals of 33 and 41 yards in spring game . . . Has string of 12 straight PAT's . . . Economics major

QUARTERBACKS

LEO GASIENICA, senior. Expected to be a ranking signal-caller this season Leo has all the tools for a great future . . . Big, strong, great arm, fair speed quick to set up and adept at reading defenses . . . Confidence in himself and receivers . . . Won quarterback job late in season . . . Completed 98 of 197 for nine TDs and over 1,000 yards . . . Scored three times . . . A top student looking to law school . . . Majoring in Political Science.

STEVE HAVRAN, sophomore. An all round natural athlete, Steve blossomed as best of fine group of freshman quarterbacks and was used behind Gasienica in spring practice . . . Fractured collarbone two days before spring game . . . A lefty with poise and know-how . . . Was also used on defense as freshman and had four interceptions playing there for the first time . . . Could be future play caller for Scarlet. Also on golf team . . . A Liberal Arts major.

JOHN PICCIRILLO, sophomore. Another of the talented frosh quarterbacks was third in line during spring but played much of spring game . . . Connected on seven of 16 passes for 135 yards . . . Could also be used as punter . . . Liberal Arts student.

RUNNING BACKS

CHARLIE DiPONZIANO, senior. Known as a determined runner despite his 175 pounds, Charlie was rewarded for his patience with starts in the last two games in 1971 . . . Ran from fullback and received "Monster" award for Colgate game . . . Carried 54 times for 162 yard total, mostly in final games . . . A Business Administration major.

JIM JENNINGS, junior. One of last season's great success stories, "J.J." burst on the scene with 108 yards against Colgate in 21 tries and followed it with a devastating 171 yards in the Urban Classic with Morgan State . . . Was 60/325 for season with three TD's . . . Picked for All-East team for Colgate game . . . Has moved from tailback to fullback . . . Capped sophomore season by leading baseball team with .327 average, catching or playing first . . . Livingston student . . . Good blocker . . . Physical Education major.

ED JONES, junior. After carrying only 11 times in first four games last year, Ed was shifted to defensive halfback and was an immediate sensation, picking up "Monster" awards against Delaware and Morgan State . . . Returned 16 kick-offs for 315 yards and had one interception . . . Returned to tailback post in spring . . . Great balance and quickness . . . 4.6 speed . . . Long jumper in track . . . Liberal Arts major.

RON SHYCKO, junior. One of the team's fastest backs, Ron displayed his wares best with a 15-yard touchdown romp against Princeton on his only play of the day . . . Picked up some seasoning as a flanker last year but was placed at tailback in spring . . . In College of Pharmacy.

WIDE RECEIVERS

BOB CARNEY, senior. The 1971 pass receiving leader, Bob is one of Rutgers' best athletes though less than 160 pounds . . . Led team with 30 receptions for 351 yards and two TD's . . . Wants to break career receiving record and needs 34 . . . Prefers split end spot where he can go one-on-one . . . "Monster" in Cornell game for nine grabs and 107 yards . . . Scored over 20 points for second season as lacrosse attackman. Now a Physical Education major.

BRUCE MILLER, senior. Bruce ranked in a tie for seventh-place among the nation's leading kick-off return artists in 1971 and established a Rutgers record of 524 yards on 19 returns . . . Outstanding 90-yard TD return against Colgate . . . "Monster" versus Princeton . . . Fourth best rusher with 32 carries for 193 yards . . . Majors in Business Administration.

TOM SWEENEY, junior. In limited action last year, Tom grabbed three passes for 47 yards, will get a better opportunity this season . . . Fine speed and good hands . . . Was varsity baseball outfielder . . . A Liberal Arts major.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

ANDY FARKAS, sophomore. One of the fleet of freshman quarterbacks, Andy has been made a defensive halfback and has accepted the challenge . . . Outstanding competitor with fine skills . . . Three-sport athlete in high school . . . Natural athlete . . . Good size and speed . . . Liberal Arts major.

JIM MALONEY, senior. Jim handled some of the punting chores last year, averaging 36.8 on 21 tries. Made best of opportunity in chance at the safety position in spring . . . Majors in Physical Education.

BOB OLDT, junior. An alternate starter at halfback last season, Bob came on strong at the end and hopes to win job among fine field of competitors . . . Two interceptions in Holy Cross game . . . Reserve shortstop on varsity baseball team . . . A Liberal Arts major.

TONY PAWLK, sophomore. A second team All-New Jersey quarterback, Tony stood out among the freshman signal-callers but has also accepted the challenge of a new position . . . Was teammate of Bolash at Manville High . . . Natural abilities put him high in the running for a starting spot at halfback . . . Three-sport scholastic star . . . Fine competitor . . . Liberal Arts student.

GARY SMOLYN, junior. Gary played his sophomore season as one of the tandem quarterbacks and excelled at running the option . . . Completed 21 of 40 passes, 3 for TD's . . . Moved to safety spot in spring to take advantage of his considerable talents . . . QB'd freshman squad until he suffered broken thumbs . . . a Group III All-Stater . . . Wants to attend law school . . . A History major.

Albert W. Twitchell, Director of Athletics

ALBERT W. TWITCHELL is entering his 12th year as athletic director. A 1935 Rutgers alumnus, Twitchell has been on the University staff since 1947, serving as a coach in lacrosse (head) and football (assistant) for the first 13 years.

Twitchell compiled a 90-31-1 12-year lacrosse record, was once coach of the year and is in the Lacrosse Hall of Fame. In administration, he has served on numerous eastern and national committees, was a principal organizer, and is past president, of the National Association of College Athletic Directors, and directed Rutgers' resounding Centennial celebration in 1969.

As an undergraduate, he received the Donald Leslie Coursen trophy, highest individual athletic award given by the University, after excelling in football and lacrosse.

Frederick E. Gruninger, Associate Director

SINCE July, 1968, Fred Gruninger has been Al Twitchell's chief aide. A 1953 Rutgers alumnus, Fred served in Alumni Relations for five years, holding the title of Associate Director, before shifting to the Athletic Department in 1964. As an undergraduate he played football and baseball and following his graduation was a golf professional briefly. For nine years he has coached the Rutgers varsity golf team, which he has directed to a 109-32-2 record.

Donald Heilman, Assistant Director

BUD HEILMAN combines duties as assistant athletic director and coordinator of recruiting. He joined the Rutgers staff in 1966 after six years as head football coach at Kutztown State and was line coach for five years. He is an alumnus of West Chester State,

Otto H. Hill, Business Manager

AMEMBER OF the Rutgers staff since 1947, Otto Hill was appointed business manager of athletics in 1961. A 1942 graduate of Rutgers, he served in the Army and Air Force during World War II returning to earn his master's degree in 1947. He was a football assistant through 1955 and served as freshman and later varsity swimming coach until 1961, when he assumed his present assignment.

All-Americans

Four Rutgers players have been selected as All-Americans by recognized national agencies. They are Paul Robeson, Homer Hazel, Bill Austin and Alex Kroll.

Robeson, an end, was selected in 1917 and 1918 to become the first Rutgers player so honored.

Hazel, who died in 1968, was selected in 1923 and 1924, the first time as an end, the next year at fullback.

It wasn't until 1958 that another Rutgers player was selected. Austin, who played tailback in the single wing, was selected 14 years ago at a halfback position.

And in 1961, when Rutgers completed a 9-0 season, Kroll was named to the center spot, earning first-team ranking on seven of the nine nationally-named teams.

Where It All Began

As most football fans are aware, the first intercollegiate football game was played Nov. 6, 1869, in New Brunswick, between Rutgers and Princeton. Rutgers won that game, six goals to four.

In 1969, Rutgers and Princeton were joined by all the nation's colleges in celebrating the football Centennial. Under the direction of Athletic Director Al Twitchell and in conjunction with the N.C.A.A., a season-long, nation-wide celebration was held.

The anniversary was recognized by the issuance of a 6¢ commemorative stamp, some 350 colleges used "100" helmet and uniform insignia, a centennial medallion was coined and Barbara Specht of Texas Tech reigned as the Centennial Queen.
